CLAIM

MLRIT recognised the importance of innovation for Engineering graduates and took an initiative by establishing the CIE (Centre for Innovative Entrepreneurship) with a vision of fostering a vibrant ecosystem for the creation and growth of enterprises and nurturing young innovators and startups firms. It provides affordable space, shared offices and services, hands-on management training, marketing support, and also, access to state-of-the-art facilities to convert innovation into marketable products.

The CIE cell interacts with the following partners to ensure active and consistent guidance in the implementation of our vision. CIE is associated with several local innovation and technology partners, and we are receiving assistance from them in the areas of product development and innovation.
